Shop 11.11 Smarter: Qeemat Helps Pakistani Shoppers Compare Prices Before They Check Out on Singles' Day

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan — November 11, 2026 — As 11.11 (Singles' Day) sales go live across Pakistan, Qeemat (https://qeemat.com.pk), a free price-comparison website for Pakistan, is reminding shoppers that the best way to save is to check the same product across stores before they buy. Qeemat shows live prices from 100+ Pakistani retailers side by side, in PKR, across more than 300,000 live offers.

11.11 is one of the biggest online shopping days of the year. Retailers push discounts on electronics, home appliances and more, but the same item can carry different prices from one store to the next, and a "sale" label does not always mean the lowest price. Qeemat lets shoppers search for a product once and see which retailer is actually cheapest, so they spend less on the same model.

The site covers the categories where price gaps matter most during big sales: laptops, Apple devices and PC components; smartphones, tablets and wearables; consoles, games and VR headsets; TVs, headphones, earbuds, speakers and soundbars; and home appliances, health and beauty products, solar panels, inverters and batteries, and gift cards. Its Hot Deals section highlights current price drops, showing the discount and the number of offers for each item, which is a quick way to spot genuine 11.11 deals.

Qeemat shows transparent pricing and verified stock, and avoids ghost listings, so shoppers see offers they can actually buy. It does not sell products itself, and it is free for consumers, with no paid accounts.

"On a day like 11.11, the simplest way to save is to compare before you check out," the Qeemat team said. "Search once, see every retailer's price in rupees, and buy from the store that is actually cheapest."
